

Commission Seeks County Landmark Identification

A campaign is underway to locate and list all important landmarks in Coffee County, the Alabama Historical Commission announced today.

W. Warner Floyd, executive director of the historical commission, said the agency particularly needs the help of local residents of the county to help compile the list.

"We need information that can best be obtained from the people who are familiar with the historic buildings and sites in the area in order to prepare this preliminary survey," Floyd explained.

The structures on the list will be examined by survey workers from the commission staff, and the most significant of these National Register of Historic Places.

Floyd asked that members of historical societies, civic groups, church groups, and other interested individuals send to the historical commission a list of significant historical, architectural, or archaeological landmarks which they feel merit a place on the preliminary list.

Formerly assigned to Letterman General Hospital, Major Clark entered military service July 1960. Fitzsimons General Hospital, located in the heart of the Rocky Mountain area and just minutes away from downtown Denver, is one of the world's largest military medical installations. The Mt. Olive City's 1,800-bed capacity hospital complex treats many wounded Vietnam returnees and is one of the Army's leading orthopedic centers.

Major Clark attended Elba City High School and graduated in 1956. Before entering the service Major Clark received his Bachelor's degree from Jacksonville State University, Jacksonville, Alabama.

MIDDLE AGED AT 27?

In 1920 when the average life expectancy was 54, a person 27 had lived half his life. Now thanks to amazing scientific discoveries, the average life expectancy is over 68 years.

Medical science has also made advances which permit longer life of today to be a healthier, more pleasant one.

should be included about the significance of the structure or site, as well as the date of construction, if known.

Letters should be addressed to the Alabama Historical Commission, 305 South Lawrence Street, Montgomery, Ala. 36104.

Floyd outlined the basic criteria which should be used in compiling the lists. "Any building or site over fifty years old is worth consideration," he said. "Also, any building or site associated with a famous Alabamian or American or with an important event in Alabama or American history."

According to Floyd, this survey of Coffee County is part of a preliminary statewide plan of preservation which will be used to determine the future development of historic preservation in Alabama.

"The members of the commission, fifteen top-ranking representatives of the public and private groups in the state who are interested in historic preservation, will set up priorities concerning which structures and sites are in need of immediate restoration and preservation. This listing will also be used to determine the allocation of state and federal preservation funds," Floyd said.

The preliminary list will later be revised to form an Alabama Register of Historic Places.

The executive director stressed that the preliminary lists must be received by August 15, in order for the Commission to meet a federal deadline.

My's Moore Dies Friday In Hospital

Mrs. Mamie Rushing Moore, age 80, died Friday in a local hospital. Services were held at 2 p. m. Saturday from the Elba Church of Christ with the Minister Demar Ham and the Minister Ned Young officiating. Burial was in the Evergreen Cemetery with Hayes Funeral Home of Elba directing.

She was survived by two sons, Jack Moore, Tuscaloosa and Glen Moore, Nashville, Tennessee; eight daughters, Mrs. Louise Clark, Mrs. Kitty Johnson and Mrs. Eric Crook, all of Elba, Mrs. Irene Thonmer, Millbra California; Mrs. Grace Walsh and Mrs. Gladys Webb, both of Cullman; Mrs. Jean Weaver, Birmingham and Mrs. Virginia Head, Dothan, six brothers, Cleve Rushing, Cecil Rushing and Alton Rushing, all of Elba, Rufus Rushing, Laverne, Edlow Rushing, Samson, and Alvie Rushing, Winter Garden, Florida; and five sisters, Mrs. Curline Dyess, Mrs. Dora Lee Dyess, Mrs. Lillie Kelley, Pensacola, Florida; Mrs. Noble Norris, Goshen, Miss. Sarah Thames and Mrs. Mary Alice Bowers, both of Evergreen.

EIGHT YEARS LATE. Eight years ago The Elba Clipper converted to offset operation but had continued to keep all the old letter press equipment. Recently all that equipment was put on the market. Pictured is J. L. Edgar as he prepared to up-root the big four page press that printed The Elba Clipper for many years. If information is correct this is the only press for that purpose ever owned by The Elba Clipper after it was first run off on a hand press, a slow process. But that was more than fifty years ago. The old press and even to the intertype was covered by water during the 1929 flood but was used again following the high waters as if it had never been completely under water. All hand types, and other pieces of machinery is being sold making room for the newer and more modern equipment.

The Elba Clipper was changed to the offset method eight years ago, a few months after being purchased by the present owner, and was one of the first newspapers in Alabama and the South to make the change. Now only a few newspapers in Alabama continue to operate by the old letter press method.

The Elba Clipper was established in July 1897.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

You shall love your neighbor as yourself. - (Matt. 22:39)

When we count our blessings, we find that we are better off than we thought we were. There is always someone who can help to a happier life, even though all we may give is a friendly smile, a cheerful greeting, or a kind act. Any good we give to others comes back to us, but it is up to us to start the ball rolling with our love and kindness.

After a telephone call late Monday afternoon informing Editor John P. Cox that the crew was again at work at the mayor's home it became necessary that proof be established and he went to the mayor's home with photographic equipment.

But before any report was made by the newspaper it was Editor Cox's duty to talk to the mayor and learn from him just what was going on and also give him an opportunity to make an explanation as to his position about it.

Mayor Jack Brunson first stated that he was shocked that anyone would be so concerned and that it had never occurred to him that the citizens of Elba would object. He stated that he was paying the employees of the Elba Water and Electric Board to work for him after their regular hours for the utility department and that he was paying $2.00 an hour for the use of a truck owned by the department. He also stated to this newspaper that the equipment digging the small trench was not equipment owned by the utility department and commented that though the department does own such equipment it digs a much wider and deeper trench than he needed and was not being used for this project.

Mayor Brunson officially made this statement to The Elba Clipper Tuesday morning explaining his position in the matter.

In his new position Dorsey is also a vice president of the Elba High School and is also a member of the Elba City Schools board of trustees. He is also a member of the Elba City Schools board of trustees.

Plans of the new stadium and the reserved seat section will be included in the business part of the meeting.

The Stadium Committee of the Elba High School Tiger stadium will meet Monday night, August 24, at the City Hall, at 6 o'clock.

These three volunteer firemen, Bob Folsom, Dorsey Roberts, and Flournoy Whitman were recently presented pens depicting 26 years service. The pens were presented to them by Fire Chief Charles Cox in ceremonies preceding a recent fire drill. The entire fire department was present for the presentations.

Attend members meeting. Pictured are five VIP's who attended the 1970 members meeting of Covington Electric Cooperative last Thursday night in Andalusia.

CARD OF THANKS

Out words are most inadequate in expressing thanks to our friends. You have expressed sympathy, generosity, love and understanding in these days of grief and loss of our loved one, Marnie R. Moore. Your kindness is deeply appreciated and will long be remembered.

May God richly bless each one of you daily. The Family 8/13/70.

ELBA, ALABAMA 36324, THURSDAY AUGUST 20, 1970

NUMBER 5

Large Checking Acct. Questioned By Jury

The Grand Jury empaneled by the Court of Coffee County, August 10 submitted their report.

After an inspection of the buildings and grounds the jury made some suggestions for improvements.

In the Grand Jury report was the following suggestion: "This Grand Jury fully realized that it is recommended the expenditure of county funds, however, we find that as of the 30th day of June, 1970, the county had funds in excess of $700,000, with only $100,000 bearing interest of any kind. We are of the opinion that idle county money should be invested to produce income, and we recommend that. We further recommend that succeeding Grand Juries inquire into the condition of the County from a cash basis and from an investment basis."

Since the Grand Jury report was made a representative of this newspaper was informed that the County has less than the $700,000 and when asked about the $100,000 investment bearing interest the report was that at that time there is no money now bearing interest of any kind and that all funds are on checking accounts. This newspaper was also told that idle money would be used this fall for roads, etc.

In a telegram to the operative, Inc., which serves Elba Clipper last week Sen. J. P. Coffee, Covington and John Sparkman and Crenshaw Counties. This loan will finance man George Andrews announced a Rural Electric line to serve 753 new confederation Administration and finance extension system improvement to Covington Electric Co.ments.

REPRESENTATIVE-EL ECT Douglas Easters recently visited with Major General R. Reid Doster, Jr., Commander of the Alabama Air National Guard, and was briefed on the Air Guard's role in pollution detection. At the time, the Birmingham Unit of the Air Guard was undergoing field training at a training site near Gulfport, Mississippi.

According to General Doster the Alabama Air Guard has received a mission originating with the Department of Interior to develop methods to detect water pollution and to identify the pollutant. This will facilitate rapid detection of the source of pollution. In accomplishing this mission, the Air Guard will employ various photo techniques including infra-red and others. Photographs will be taken from the Guards let RF-84 in conjunction with the regular training missions.

Easters has expressed repeatedly a keen interest in the program of water and air pollution. He seems to be getting off to an early start in discharging his responsibility as a Representative for this area.

Football Season Tickets On Sale Now

Those desiring reserved seat tickets who have purchased chairs in the bleachers should get their check in the mail to the Elba High School before September 1st. These tickets are $7.50 each for home games, according to Lamar F. Foley, high school principal.

The $7.50 does not pay for a reserved seat chair in the stadium which is purchased separately and belongs to those buying them for as long as they want to hold them and so long as they pay the reserve tickets for the season.

Foley urges everyone who has already bought stadium chairs to order their tickets as early as possible and certainly no later than the September 1st deadline.

Mayor Answers Complaints About Sprinkler Work

There has been quite a stir among citizens in Elba the past few days because employees of the Elba Water and Electric Board and City equipment were being used to install a sprinkling system on the lawn at the home of Elba's mayor.

The concern had become so intense and serious that the editor of The Elba Clipper was being telephoned, stopped on the street and special trips made to see him in relation to the matter.

After a telephone call late Monday afternoon informing Editor John P. Cox that the crew was again at work at the mayor's home it became necessary that proof be established and he went to the mayor's home with photographic equipment.

But before any report was made by the newspaper it was Editor Cox's duty to talk to the mayor and learn from him just what was going on and also give him an opportunity to make an explanation as to his position about it.

Mayor Jack Brunson first stated that he was shocked that anyone would be so concerned and that it had never occurred to him that the citizens of Elba would object. He stated that he was paying the employees of the Elba Water and Electric Board to work for him after their regular hours for the utility department and that he was paying $2.00 an hour for the use of a truck owned by the department. He also stated to this newspaper that the equipment digging the small trench was not equipment owned by the utility department and commented that though the department does own such equipment it digs a much wider and deeper trench than he needed and was not being used for this project.

Mayor Brunson officially made this statement to The Elba Clipper Tuesday morning explaining his position in the matter.

In his new position Dorsey is also a vice president of the Elba High School and is also a member of the Elba City Schools board of trustees. He is also a member of the Elba City Schools board of trustees.

Plans of the new stadium and the reserved seat section will be included in the business part of the meeting.

The Stadium Committee of the Elba High School Tiger stadium will meet Monday night, August 24, at the City Hall, at 6 o'clock.

These three volunteer firemen, Bob Folsom, Dorsey Roberts, and Flournoy Whitman were recently presented pens depicting 26 years service. The pens were presented to them by Fire Chief Charles Cox in ceremonies preceding a recent fire drill. The entire fire department was present for the presentations.

Large Checking Acct. Questioned By Jury

The Grand Jury empaneled by the Court of Coffee County, August 10 submitted their report.

After an inspection of the buildings and grounds the jury made some suggestions for improvements.

In the Grand Jury report was the following suggestion: "This Grand Jury fully realized that it is recommended the expenditure of county funds, however, we find that as of the 30th day of June, 1970, the county had funds in excess of $700,000, with only $100,000 bearing interest of any kind. We are of the opinion that idle county money should be invested to produce income, and we recommend that. We further recommend that succeeding Grand Juries inquire into the condition of the County from a cash basis and from an investment basis."

Since the Grand Jury report was made a representative of this newspaper was informed that the County has less than the $700,000 and when asked about the $100,000 investment bearing interest the report was that at that time there is no money now bearing interest of any kind and that all funds are on checking accounts. This newspaper was also told that idle money would be used this fall for roads, etc.

In a telegram to the operative, Inc., which serves Elba Clipper last week Sen. J. P. Coffee, Covington and John Sparkman and Crenshaw Counties. This loan will finance man George Andrews announced a Rural Electric line to serve 753 new confederation Administration and finance extension system improvement to Covington Electric Co.ments.

REPRESENTATIVE-EL ECT Douglas Easters recently visited with Major General R. Reid Doster, Jr., Commander of the Alabama Air National Guard, and was briefed on the Air Guard's role in pollution detection. At the time, the Birmingham Unit of the Air Guard was undergoing field training at a training site near Gulfport, Mississippi.

According to General Doster the Alabama Air Guard has received a mission originating with the Department of Interior to develop methods to detect water pollution and to identify the pollutant. This will facilitate rapid detection of the source of pollution. In accomplishing this mission, the Air Guard will employ various photo techniques including infra-red and others. Photographs will be taken from the Guards let RF-84 in conjunction with the regular training missions.

Easters has expressed repeatedly a keen interest in the program of water and air pollution. He seems to be getting off to an early start in discharging his responsibility as a Representative for this area.
